DR. THOMAS E. GREEN

Most Gifted Orator of the Lyceum

Is Traveling in Japan.

To Lecture on the Truth About Japan at Our Chautauqua.

In Dr. Thomas E. Green the Chautauqua platform presents one of the master minds of the lecture platform. Dr. Green is counted one of the most eloquent men in America—a rare genius, with an individuality, a personality and a magnetism that wins. His lectures are scholarly, eloquent and a never ending array of historical facts, told in such a way as to give his hearers a remarkable insight into the great, successive events that make up the history of our own nation and of the world.

Dr. Green is blessed with a remarkable memory. The facts and figures of history, ancient and modern, are at his tongue's end, and from the facts and figures which he presents to great audiences he draws logical conclusions that impel approval.

Dr. Green is a great student and as great an analyst. He knows the things that have been and that are, and the why and wherefore thereof. His is a prophetic mind. He discusses past events and present doings and intuitively he pictures not only the possibilities, but the probabilities of

DR. THOMAS E. GREEN.

None is so eloquent as to be the peer of Dr. Green; few, indeed, there are eloquent enough to be called his equal. Wherever he has spoken his audiences have been large and most enthusiastic in their desire to hear him again and often.

Dr. Green's success as a public speaker does not exist because of his eloquence alone, nor yet because of his intimate knowledge of history, nor yet even because he has the prophetic mind that sees great and logical visions unfolding. Dr. Green is an every-day student of every-day affairs. He has been a great traveler; he likes to see the countries and the peoples of the whole world; to study at first hand what are the problems of nations and the prospects that confront nations because of the problems. Dr. Green has studied Europe and her people as he has studied America. This year he has gone into the far east—Japan—getting into touch with the life of the Orient, in order to be the better able to discuss America's relation to those far-off countries, some of whose people have come to our western shores. Dr. Green's desire for real knowledge, secured at first hand, has made him the great lecturer that he is. He tells things that are facts, presents them in an interesting manner, and his eloquent conclusions are so logical that he always inspires an audience and leaves it the richer in thought and impulse.

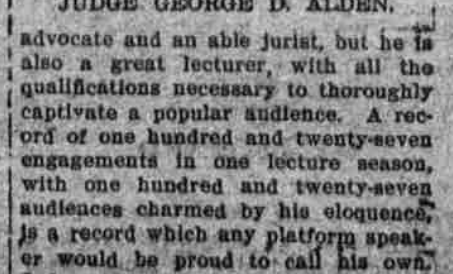

GUMES BACK BY REQUEST

Judge George D. Alden of Boston to Appear at Local Chautauqua.

One of the best recommendations that any lecturer can have is the request that comes, after his appearance, "When can we have a return date?" Chautauqua managers and entertainment course committees do not ask for a return date for a mediocre lecturer or entertainment. Hon. Geo. D. Alden is one from whom this query has invariably been asked.

Judge Alden is one of the most eminent jurists, one of the most noted men connected with the Massachusetts bar. Judge Alden is not only a most successful lawyer, an eloquent advocate and an able jurist, but he is also a great lecturer, with all the qualifications necessary to thoroughly captivate a popular audience. A record of one hundred and twenty-seven engagements in one lecture season, with one hundred and twenty-seven audiences charmed by his eloquence, is a record which any platform speaker would be proud to call his own. Judge Alden has an eloquence that unites brilliancy of expression, personal magnetism, forceful epigrams, uplifting teachings, the power to create an enthralled public sentiment, and a stimulating humor. An audience soon falls completely in love with Judge Alden's style; he touches living, vital topics in a manner that compels attention and elicits the deepest admiration; he says things worth while; he has a message, and in the delivery of that message he has won the enthusiastic approval of every audience before which he has appeared.
